Objectives

Provide investors with an appreciation of their capital by investing in small- and mid-sized Latin American companies.

Investment Policy

The sub-fund will invest at least 70% in small- and mid-sized Latin American companies or companies which conduct the main part of their economic activity within Latin America. Risk and Reward Profile

Lower risk — Higher risk

Potentially lower rewards — Potentially higher rewards

What does this synthetic indicator mean?

- The shares of class I are classified in category 6 because the value of the share may be subject to high variations and consequently the risk of loss and the opportunity of gain may be high.
- The risk category has been determined on the basis of historical and simulated data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile. The risk and reward category shown does not necessarily remain unchanged and the categorisation of the fund may shift over time.
- The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.
- Repayment of the initial investment is not guaranteed.

Which materially relevant risks are not adequately captured by the synthetic indicator?

- The investment in emerging markets exposes the sub-fund to risks related to political, regulatory, financial or fiscal instabilities or uncertainties that may negatively affect the value of the investments or even question the ownership title of the sub-fund. Settlement and delivery systems in these markets may be less well organized which may lead to additional risks (risk of late or cancelled settlement of transactions, losses for the sub-fund due to the default of the counterparty). Certain emerging markets in which the sub-fund may invest, may be of small size. This may result in the risk that the investments of the sub-fund in these markets are more difficult to buy or sell at an adequate price.
- The market for securities issued by small- and mid-capitalisation companies is generally less liquid than the market for securities issued by large-capitalisation companies. This leads to a higher risk as certain sub-fund investments in the market for small- and mid-capitalisation companies may be temporarily unavailable for purchase or sale at fair value.
- Other risk factors, that an investor shall take into account with regards to his own situation and specific current and future circumstances, may exist.

How can I get more information about the risks of the sub-fund?

Additional information concerning the risks of investment in the sub-fund is indicated in the corresponding section of the prospectus of the fund which is available at the Management Company and on the website www.lvamfunds.com.
